

Do Sponsors also need to sign up as Members?

That is entirely up to you, and will be based on the extent of your desired involvement in the association and strata industry as a whole.

Member Benefits

Through member e-bulletins, event invites, e-news, & our national magazine, 'Inside Strata'.

Access to Events – Accreditation, Training & Networking

Receive discounted rates when attending events, and earn Professional Development points with SCA, Department of Commerce and the Legal Practice Board (where applicable) by attending SCA (WA) training, and earn SCA Accreditation.

Best Practice Series

As part of our commitment to the industry we have developed the Practice Series, aimed at providing owners, residents and service providers for Strata Titled properties a greater understanding of the key essentials required to effectively navigate the maze that is Strata Title. The Best Practice Series are a set of three booklets.

Member advisory line

Obtain objective advice through our fortnightly advice line. The advisory service is provided solely for general information purposes, and should not be taken as constituting legal advice. This service can be used by service providers in the industry to better perform in their role by gaining an improved understanding of the strata regulations that apply in a situation they may be working in.

Credibility

This is maintained through our Professional Standards Committee to ensure that actions by SCA (WA) members are in accordance with the Association's Constitution and Code of Ethics. This often provides a degree of comfort and confidence for clients and industry peers that the company they're dealing with is a member of a professional body.

Supplier Directory Listing

As a member (also available to sponsors) of SCA (WA), your business will be listed in the supplier directory on our website, including your contact details. This is a fantastic way for potential customers (both strata managers and lot owners) to find your business when searching for a supplier in your field of work.

Representation

With an important national voice on strata matters, SCA (WA) takes an active interest in ensuring State interests are represented when national policy is developed. We aim to advance the interest of our members by lobbying the WA State Government on issues that affect its members, particularly in relation to the Strata Titles Act, ensuring your voice is heard. As a member, you're invited to attend and vote at all General Meetings, allowing you to actively participate in the direction of the association.
